Our organisation is after the services of a young and fresh mind or minds, to help us improve several aspects of our business’ electronic and digital footprints. Of course we are willing to compensate accordingly and feel this income would be better given to a student who would be keen for the experience these tasks offer.

Tasks we are looking to undertake;

1. Website redesign and development

2. Website optimisation and customer/staff access through website to pertinent company data.

3. Development of an online training module.

4. CRM development/ modifications and advice.

Please note the content for all of the above already exists and it is predominantly the design and functionality of each of the above we are wanting to develop or improve. Our experience leads us to believe that there are many adequately qualified students out there who could undertake such work.

Please apply with cover letter outlining how you meet the above requirements and your resume to:
